

PHILOSOPHY

Real Opportunities

As a philosophy major you will engage in the reasoned pursuit of fundamental truths concerning the nature of the world and humanity and you will consider the basis of value and ethical obligation. Philosophy seeks to discern the nature and scope of knowledge, both scientific and otherwise, to establish standards of evidence. It seeks out rational ways of resolving conflict and creates techniques for evaluating ideas and arguments.

A unique feature of our department is our certificate in ethics, which can be taken alongside the philosophy major or any other major.

Philosophy prepares you for careers in

Education
Business
Politics
Writing
Law

Courses You'll Take

- Business Ethics
- Contemporary Moral Problems
- Philosophy of Popular Culture
- Philosophy of Religion
- Truth, Knowledge, and Belief

Amazing Results

The undergraduate major in philosophy helps to prepare you for graduate study in philosophy, law, business, and other fields.

Philosophy majors score higher on the verbal reasoning and analytical writing portions of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) than any other major.

Additional job opportunities include careers in journalism, teaching careers, and numerous others.

The Philosophy program sponsors an annual lecture series "Practical Wisdom" which brings PhD. Candidates of Philosophy to campus to present their cutting edge dissertation research to our students.

Your Parkside Experience

- Development of verbal and written reasoning skills
- Opportunities to apply critical thinking to theoretical and practical topics
- Active philosophy club
- Small class sizes

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN PARKSIDE

CONTACT INFO:

Dr. Jenny Keefe
Email: keefe@uwp.edu
Phone: 262-595-2465

900 Wood Road
P.O. Box 2000
Kenosha, WI 53141-2000